Gurudev Sri Sri Ravi Shankar is a universally revered spiritual and humanitarian leader. His vision of a violence-free, stress-free society through the reawakening of human values has inspired millions to broaden their spheres of responsibility and work towards the betterment of the world.

He is a multi-faceted social activist whose initiatives include conflict resolution, disaster and trauma relief, poverty alleviation, empowerment of women, prisoner rehabilitation, education for all and campaigns against female foeticide and child labour. He is engaged in peace negotiations and counselling in conflict zones around the world. His expertise in bringing opposing parties to the negotiating table in areas such as Sri Lanka, Iraq, the Ivory Coast, Cameroon, Kashmir and Bihar is widely acknowledged.

In 1981, Gurudev established The Art of Living, an educational and humanitarian Non-Governmental Organisation that works in special consultative status with the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) of the United Nations. Present in 155 countries, it formulates and implements lasting solutions to conflicts and issues faced by individuals, communities and nations. In 1997, Gurudev founded the International Association for Human Values (IAHV) to foster human values and lead sustainable development projects. He is also a co-founder of India Against Corruption (IAC).

He has reached out to an estimated 370 million people worldwide through personal interactions, public events, teachings, Art of Living workshops and humanitarian initiatives. Not since Mahatma Gandhi has one person united people of different traditions and faiths into a spiritual communion across the length and breadth of India.

He has brought to the masses ancient practices which were traditionally kept exclusive, and has designed many self-development techniques which can easily be integrated into daily life to calm the mind and instil confidence and enthusiasm. These techniques have helped thousands overcome depression and violent and suicidal tendencies. One of Gurudev's most unique offerings to the world is the Sudarshan Kriya, a powerful breathing technique that facilitates physical, mental, emotional and social well-being.

Numerous honours have been bestowed upon Gurudev, including the highest civilian awards of Colombia, Mongolia and Paraguay. In 2016, he was conferred with the 'Padma Vibhushan', the highest annual civilian award of India. He has also been conferred with 16 honorary doctorates from around the world. Gurudev has addressed several international forums, including the United Nations Millennium World Peace Summit (2000), the World Economic Forum (2001, 2003) and several parliaments across the globe.

Gurudev is the Chancellor of Sri Sri University. He has also been appointed as the Chairman of the Quality Control of India Yoga Certification Committee. He is a member of the Amarnath Shrine Board (appointed by Government of Jammu and Kashmir, India). He was appointed the Chairman of Reception Committee for the 500th anniversary celebrations of the Coronation of Krishnadevaraya (by Government of Karnataka, India). Gurudev is also a member of the Amarnath Shrine Board (appointed by Government of Jammu and Kashmir, India).

He travels to nearly 40 countries every year, exemplifying his call to globalise wisdom. His universal and simple message is that love and wisdom can prevail over hatred and distress.

ONE WORLD FAMILY

Gurudev at the Interfaith Conference for World Religious Leaders in Seville, Spain. He has played a vital role in promoting interfaith dialogue. He encourages individuals to follow their chosen spiritual path while honouring the path of others.

Gurudev is engaged in bridging religious, social, ideological and economic divides in society by enlivening the ancient Indian ideal of Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam (One World Family). He reminds us that diverse traditions and cultures have their roots in the same basic human values of peace, compassion, truth, belongingness and non-violence. The Art of Living serves society with a non-denominational, secular and holistic approach.

In March 2007, the Universal Declaration of Human Values, authored by Gurudev, was unveiled at the John F Kennedy Centre for Performing Arts in Washington DC. This document, in the form of a proposed resolution of the General Assembly of the United Nations, represents Gurudev's vision for a fresh approach to fostering understanding and harmonious coexistence between different peoples and cultures.

In January 2005, Gurudev gave the keynote address at the First World Congress of Imams and Rabbis for Peace held in Brussels.

He has hosted and facilitated several dialogues and reconciliation events between different caste groups in various parts of India. In 2002, he hosted a three-day conference at The Art of Living International Centre in Bengaluru to showcase the contribution of Dalits to the rich heritage of India.

Respected as a neutral party with unquestionable integrity, Gurudev has inspired many groups to adopt peaceful means to resolve conflicts. He has engaged all the stake holders in the peace process in areas such as Sri Lanka, the Balkans, Iraq, Kashmir, Israel, Lebanon and the Ivory Coast. Trauma relief programmes have been conducted extensively in these areas to help individuals release negative emotions such as anger from the past, revenge and frustration, which can hamper the peaceful resolution of disputes. Gurudev convened the South Asia Peace and Reconciliation Conference in Oslo in April 2008.

"Pluralism and embracing people of all cultures should be part of our education," said Gurudev at the Presidential Conference entitled 'Facing Tomorrow 2009', in Jerusalem. "The Middle East crisis can be solved through educating people with a multi cultural, multi religious and broader spectrum of knowledge," he said.

IRAQ

Art of Living volunteers have been working in Iraq on a sustained basis since September 2003 to facilitate the physical, mental, emotional and social well-being of the Iraqi people. To date, 5,000 Iraqis have benefited from the trauma relief and community empowerment projects in Baghdad, Basra, Suleimania and Karbala. Gurudev visited the nation in May 2007 and in December 2008 at the invitation of Iraqi Prime Minister, Nouri al-Maliki. The Prime Minister requested Gurudev to expand The Art of Living programmes to more parts of Iraq, including the prisons.

Gurudev urged Iraqi leaders to give non-violence a chance. He met with a wide spectrum of Iraqi society including senior political figures, Shiite leaders, tribal heads, representatives of humanitarian organisations, women, soldiers and youth. Following his visit, the Iraqi government sent 55 youth to The Art of Living international headquarters to attend a month-long training. As a result, Iraq now has many more agents to bring about peace.

Working to help the Yazidis

In 2014, Gurudev Sri Sri Ravi Shankar called upon the governments of Europe, America, and India to save the thousands of Yazidis trapped in the Sinjar Mountains in Iraq.

The Art of Living and its sister concern, the International Association for Human Values team has been working to bring relief to refugees and internally displaced people (IDP). From its base in Erbil, the team brought relief of 110 tons of food, water, and hygiene products to over five different camps, each camp sheltering 550 Iraqi families. Food supplies were also airlifted and distributed to Yazidi refugees on the Sinjar mountains. The IAHV reached out to more than 2,000 families in the region.

Gurudev also visited Kurdistan from November 19 to 21, 2014, to give solace to the hundreds of Christians, Kurds, and Arabs who had been displaced. The visit, which was Sri Sri's third to Iraq, saw him deliberate with various leaders, bringing them on a common platform to discuss peace.

Gurudev talked about co-existence, compassion, and commitment to peace at the IAHV-hosted conference titled 'Protecting Women and Bringing Stability and Peace'. Gurudev also addressed the Kurdish Parliament and interacted with the refugees at The Art of Living's relief camp in the Sinjar mountains.

The surmounting strife has been a cause for immense stress among the locals. To provide effective healthcare, The Art of Living started a unique Ayurvedic center on June 2, 2015. Dr. Rikot Hamah Rachid, the Health Minister of Kurdistan, extended his support to the center and inaugurated it. Till date, many Iraqis have experienced the benefits of Ayurvedic healthcare.

COLOMBIA

A 52-year-old war formally ended with the signing of the peace agreement between the FARC and the Colombian government in Cartagena de Indias on September 26, 2016. Gurudev was invited by the President & the FARC to be part of the ceremony.

“Thank you for everything you (Sri Sri) have done for the peace process. You have been a great support and friend of this process. All your help is very useful and your spiritual guidance is so important and I will be grateful forever,” said the President of Colombia H.E. President Santos to Gurudev after the event.

During his visit to Colombia, Gurudev also addressed a group of 500 social leaders inviting them to cultivate inner peace and support the peace process.

The Arhuacos indigenous community asked Gurudev for his support to protect the environment in their territory, culture and ancient traditions.

Forgiveness program

On Gurudev’s recommendation, The Art of Living facilitated a forgiveness program between FARC leaders and the families of 12 deputies who were kidnapped, held captive and finally killed by the FARC (only one survived). During this meeting, the families of the deputies expressed their suffering to the perpetrators who said, “Today with sincere humbleness, we would like to publicly recognize our responsibility and ask for forgiveness.” The meeting ended with the families and FARC leaders holding hands in a circle and together, praying for the souls of the deceased deputies.

With Gurudev’s guidance, The Art of Living in Colombia is developing peace-building programs that will be adopted in the post-conflict period.

SRI LANKA

Rebuilding Trust for Lasting Peace

Gurudev has visited Sri Lanka four times since 2005 to resolve the crisis. Concerned about the conflict in Sri Lanka, and the plight of the civilians, Gurudev went on a 3-day peace mission to Sri Lanka in April 2009. He closely interacted with refugees in the Manik camp for Internally Displaced People (IDP) as well as a camp in Vavuniya and met with H.E Mahinda Rajapakse, President of Sri Lanka. Gurudev has also started the “Village of Hope”, an orphanage for children.

Since 2004, he has been actively involved in resolving the Sri Lankan crisis. He was instrumental in the formation of the ‘Committee for Peace in Sri Lanka’ comprising Hindu and Buddhist leaders, including the Dalai Lama.

He had extensive meetings with the President, opposition leaders, Tamil leaders and the general public during one of his visits to the nation in April 2006. During the visit, he was inundated with letters from the public seeking his help to bring about peace in Sri Lanka. In September 2006, Gurudev ventured into LTTE stronghold Kilinochchi for peace talks.

In two separate visits, Sri Lankan Prime Minister Ranil Wickramasinghe and two parliamentary delegations from the United National Party (UNP) and Tamil National Alliance (TNA) visited Gurudev in India in 2006 to discuss the Sri Lankan issue.

Since 2005, over 1,500 Tamil youth, mostly from Jaffna, have undergone The Art of Living youth leadership training programme after which they have given up violence and taken on community empowerment projects.

In his fifth visit to Sri Lanka in October 2009, over 10,000 people visited Gurudev at the country’s largest indoor stadium in Colombo. He urged Sri Lankan Tamils to “have peace in your heart, in your mind, family and society.”

CONFLICT RESOLUTION

Gurudev with Kashmiri leaders during his visit to the state in 2006. The visit led to a rare dialogue between leaders of several Kashmiri separatist groups, including both factions of the All Party Hurriyat Conference and representatives of Kashmiri Pandits.

JAMMU & KASHMIR

Gurudev's peace initiatives in Jammu & Kashmir focus on:

- ◆ healing the trauma of decades of militancy
- ◆ facilitating dialogue between people from different ideological groups
- ◆ improving the inhumane conditions in migrant camps
- ◆ reforming prison inmates
- ◆ de-stressing army and police personnel
- ◆ channelling misguided youth toward constructive activities.

He has visited the state three times in as many years to open up avenues for dialogue and negotiation. His visit in 2006 culminated in a rare dialogue between leaders of several Kashmiri groups, including both factions of the All Party Hurriyat Conference and representatives of the Kashmiri Pandits. Inspired by Gurudev, thousands of youth who had been trained in terrorist camps, have shunned the path of violence.

In 2005, IAHV established a child care centre to provide education and a safe haven for children affected by militancy and the 2005 earthquake.

CLASS CONFLICT IN INDIA

Gurudev's teachings and initiatives have transformed many villages in the Naxalite-infested areas of central Bihar and Andhra Pradesh. During his visit to Bihar in 2002, more than 100,000 youth from warring factions such as Ranvir Sena, CPI-ML, People's War Group and Maoist Communist Centre vowed to spread the message of non-violence.

As a result of his timely intervention, there was no retaliatory massacre in the aftermath of the 2006 Jehanabad killings. Instead, warring groups came together soon after the incident for a community gathering organised by The Art of Living in Ekwardi, the nerve centre of Naxal violence in Bihar, which avoided further escalation of violence.

Gurudev has hosted and facilitated dialogues and reconciliation events between different Caste Groups in various parts of India. In March 2007, he hosted the Truth and Reconciliation Conference in New Delhi bringing together leaders from the upper and lower castes of India who pledged to strive towards bringing equality in society. In 2002, he hosted a 3-day conference at The Art of Living International Centre in Bengaluru to showcase the rich heritage of the Dalits in India.

KOSOVO

In Kosovo, The Art of Living has successfully carried out programmes to promote dialogue between people on both sides of the ethnic divide, thus expanding the circle of belonging to transcend narrow identities.

The Health Ministry of Kosovo directly supports The Art of Living's trauma relief efforts which have helped thousands of people including war veterans, prisoners, health workers, victims of war crimes, UN peace keeping forces and children in Kosovo.

EMPOWERING COMMUNITIES

As a result of the Youth Leadership Training Programme (YLTP), people in this remote village in Cameroon have taken the initiative to build a road rather than wait for other agencies to help. Hundreds of youth in Cameroon have undergone the YLTP and are engaged in implementing the 5H programme in their villages.

The Art of Living's 5H programme has revolutionised lives in thousands of villages in India. Thanks to its hygiene initiatives, nine villages in Maharashtra, India have won the Nirmal Gram Puraskar award from the Government of India for achieving total sanitation targets.

Gurudev has led and promoted campaigns to end the practice of sex selection in India.

Through grassroots initiatives, The Art of Living has empowered rural communities to become partners in the process of sustainable development.

5H PROGRAMME

Gurudev started the 5H Programme (Homes, Hygiene, Health, Harmony in Diversity and Human Values) in 1997 to engineer a socio-economic transformation that will eradicate poverty, misery and disease and ensure peace and harmony among communities. The 5H programme is implemented by rural youth trained under The Art of Living's Youth Leadership Training Programme. In India, 110,000 trained youth leaders are working in 40,212 villages. The 5H projects are operating in villages and slums across Africa, Asia and South America.

EDUCATION FOR THE MARGINALISED

435 schools have been set up providing free education to 58,904 children every year in the tribal, rural and semi-urban belts of India, where child-labour and poverty are widespread.

ADDRESSING FARMER SUICIDES

The Art of Living is pursuing a comprehensive programme in the Vidarbha region of Maharashtra, where farmers have become suicidal due to successive crop failures and mounting debts. Earlier statistics suggested that one farmer was committing suicide every eight hours. In the 507 villages where The Art of Living volunteers have worked so far, there has not been a single reported instance of suicide. Encouraged by the results, the Government of Maharashtra has requested Gurudev to take up the work in all affected districts.

The Vidarbha programme focuses on:

- ◆ Building community support systems
- ◆ Instilling confidence and enthusiasm in farmers
- ◆ Promoting alternative farming techniques such as organic farming and zero budget farming, to improve the yield of crops in the long run
- ◆ Rainwater harvesting
- ◆ Implementing the 5H programme for overall self-sufficiency in villages.

RIVER REJUVENATION

The water scarcity challenge has affected populations across India. The Art of Living under the leadership of Gurudev has taken up this serious issue and initiated revival and rejuvenation of 33 rivers and over 1000 water-bodies across India.

- ◆ Maharashtra - 25 rivers (Gharni, Tavarja, Rena, Jana, Mudgul, Manjara, Waki, Terna, Rajegavi, Benitura, Bori, Bhogwati, Narola, Bahiravi, Galhati, Soyanjana, Venna, Waghadi, Panzan, Kalki, Shivnadi, Maanganga, Gomai, Ramnadi and Shivganga)

- ◆ Kerala - 1 river (Pampa)

WOMEN'S EMPOWERMENT

Gurudev has inspired numerous initiatives to uplift and create opportunities for women, especially in rural areas. He has initiated mass campaigns against female foeticide. With female literacy rates abysmally low in some parts of the world, The Art of Living rural schools encourage parents to send girl children to school. At one such school on the outskirts of Bengaluru city, 46% of the children are girls, with the numbers rising every year.

Women are given vocational training to reduce economic dependencies, and are given free homes registered in their names. Health education for women covers nutrition, hygiene and disease prevention, while self-development courses help to instil inner confidence.

EMPOWERING INDIVIDUALS

Over 30 million people from all walks of life have benefited from Art of Living workshops world-wide.

The Art of Living programmes eliminate stress, create a sense of well being, restore human values and encourage people to come together in service and celebration.

More than 350,000 inmates in jails around the world have been provided an opportunity for serious rehabilitation through The Art of Living prison programme.

“A disease-free body, a stress-free mind and a violence-free society are the birth right of every individual,” says Gurudev. He has designed a myriad of self-development programmes to release stress, create a sense of well-being, restore human values and encourage people from all walks of life to come together in a spirit of service and celebration.

SUDARSHAN KRIYA

The Sudarshan Kriya, a powerful breathing technique cognised by Gurudev forms the cornerstone of a diverse range of self-development programmes catering to all sections of society. Customised courses are available for executives, youth, military, children and villagers. Special programmes have been designed for prisoners, as well as individuals with drug and alcohol dependencies.

In Denmark, the nation's judicial system recognises the effectiveness of the course and sends juvenile offenders to The Art of Living programme in lieu of jails.

In India, 350,000 inmates, including terrorists, in over 100 jails have been provided an opportunity for serious rehabilitation. To provide a more holistic rehabilitative intervention, Gurudev has also initiated recreational opportunities such as theatre, music and dance workshops and vocational training for inmates. In cooperation with the jail authorities, production units have been started in select jails.

4500 armed insurgents from extremist outfits have been rehabilitated through trauma relief workshops and vocational skill training.

DE-ADDICTION

Gurudev has initiated programmes to help people come out of drug, alcohol and substance dependencies which have been highly effective in USA, India, Mongolia and Bahrain.
